HIGH COURT NOT ARBITRATOR FOR CONTEST ACTION

Decision of District Court at Muskogee Affirmed by High Court

NO JURISDICTION

Jarman Counsel Argues That Jurisdiction Must Rest
In District

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—The state supreme court today affirmed the decision of the district court at Muskogee in refusing to take jurisdiction in the election contest instituted by J. H. Jarman, who was defeated for Democratic supreme court nomination in the first district by Charles W. Mason.

Counsel for Jarman argued before the court that jurisdiction must rest in the district in which Mason resided or in which the state election board has its headquarters.

Mason was declared the nominee by the state election board by a plurality of 49 votes.

In probably the most spirited race of the August primary election, Charles W. Mason, of Nowata, supreme court justice, was declared the Democratic nominee of the first supreme court district, his nearest opponent being J. H. Jarman, of Sallisaw, supreme court commissioner. Mason's lead, as certified to the state election board, was 49 votes. Not far behind was Judge A. C. Brewster, of Pryor, who had 102 votes less than Jarman. There were three other candidates.

It was several days before the returns from the first district were complete, the leadership swinging during the interim from Jarman to Mason and back again.

On Sept. 13, Mason was issued the certificate of nomination by W. C. McAlister, secretary of the state election board.

There had been rumors of election tampering from the first district and on Sept. 15 Jarman filed suit in the supreme court asking that that body take original jurisdiction in a suit to obtain a recount of the vote in the race. The appellate court refused to hear the contest, ruling that the district courts in the counties in which the vote was disputed had concurrent jurisdiction and a suit should be filed there. A few days later Jarman filed suit in Rogers and Wagoner counties.

Attorney General Sent

Later an assistant attorney general was sent to Sequoyah county at the behest of Governor Trapp. Attorney General George Short declared, to look into alleged election frauds there. A second assistant attorney general was sent to Rogers county. The one sent to Sequoyah county found, he said, that persons had been brought from Arkansas to vote in the judicial election.

Jarman carried Sequoyah county by a large plurality. Mason carried Rogers county by a huge majority. Jarman receiving but 32 votes. The vote in Wagoner county was close, with Jarman having a narrow margin of victory.

The state election board and the election boards of Wagoner and Rogers counties had been made parties to the suit against Mason, and a temporary injunction prevented the putting of Mason's name on the ballot. The injunction was granted in Wagoner county.

On October 15, the Wagoner county district court sustained a demurrer by Mason, declaring it had no jurisdiction as Mason's home was in Nowata county, the seat of the state election board was in Oklahoma county, and the county election board was of secondary importance in determining the nominee. The following day Jarman appealed from the judgment, asking relief from the supreme court.

The vote in the Mason-Jarman race, by counties, was as follows:

Counties	Jarman	Mason
Adair	661	183
Cherokee	1568	109
Craig	115	209
Delaware	208	528
Mays	29	107
Nowata	17	1128
Ottawa	132	69
Rogers	32	1526
Sequoyah	2239	414
Wagoner	579	488

THREE ADDITIONS TO LIST OF DEAD ON TRENTON

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Three additional deaths during the night brought the total number of fatalities from the explosion Monday on the cruiser Trenton to eleven.

Arthur J. McCormick of Charleston, Massachusetts, George B. Luker of Belford, N. J., and George J. Gaffney of New York City, all seamen, were those whose deaths were announced today, by the navy department.

JOHN McNAMARA, OF DYNAMITE FAME, IN TROUBLE AGAIN

John McNamara, who served more than nine years of a 15-year sentence for his alleged connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, is being held in Indianapolis on charges of blackmail made in connection with activities of the iron workers' union, for which he is a local business agent. He was international secretary-treasurer of the union at the time of the dynamiting.

BUCK GARRETT IS DRIVEN TO GATE

Higher Court Uphold Johnson's Action in Sustaining
London's Demurrer

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—Ewing C. London, sheriff of Carter county and Democratic nominee to succeed himself, won the final fight in a contest instituted by Buck Garrett, former Carter county sheriff, when the supreme court declared today that Garrett had no claim on the nomination. Garrett had alleged that London prevented several hundred negroes from voting and had asked that the nomination be declared void and to name him (Garrett) as the nominee.

The court held that if the election was void Garrett would have no claim upon it. An illegal election would have left the county without a nominee, according to the court.

The decision settled an issue which threatened to jeopardize the nomination of all Carter county officials and would have affected the votes cast for all candidates for state offices. If London's nomination had been void the nomination of all for whom votes were cast would have been similarly affected it was explained.

Garrett argued to the high court that he would have shown that voters deprived of their ballots wished to vote for him. The court held that a voter could not be heard to say for whom he wished to vote after the election is over.

The case was appealed from the decision of Judge Hal Johnson of Shawnee, who sustained London's demurrer to Garrett's allegations.

Johnson sat in the case after Garrett succeeded in obtaining a change of judges. Judge W. F. Freeman was disqualified and later Judge C. C. Smith of Guthrie was assigned to case but he too was disqualified at the instance of London.

CLAIMS PATRIOTISM MOVE IN BUYING NAVAL LANDS

(By the Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Testimony in support of the charge that a profiteering plot lay behind the granting to the Doherty interests in 1922 of certain contracts and leases involving naval oil reserves in California was scheduled for presentation in federal court here in the government's suit against the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company for cancellation of these contracts and leases.

According to the opening statement yesterday of Frank Hogan, chief counsel for the defense there was no profiteering plot back of the oil lease transactions but rather it was based on the highest and most patriotic of motives—a desire to protect the United States in the Pacific by providing at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, a board of oil huge enough to fuel the country's oil burning dreadnaughts against a possible war of defense against foreign aggression.

Claims Hight Insane.

(By the Associated Press)
MT. VERNON, Ill., Oct. 22.—Alleging that L. M. Hight, former clergyman and confessed poisoner of his wife and Wilford Sweeten, is insane, his attorney today filed a motion asking for the appointment of a medical commission to pass on his sanity before he is required to plead to the murder charge.

Fag on Ban in Newman's Court

Justice will not be clouded by a haze of tobacco smoke as long as Judge Porter Newman of Pontotoc county's rustic courtroom.

"Douse the fag," is the substance of the severe command entrusted to the officialdom of Kit Guest, veteran bailiff.

Not that Judge Newman is anti-tobacco fan or objects to inhaling odors of the weed—but "there are those to whom tobacco smoke is abnoxious, and in deference to those, gentlemen will not be permitted to smoke while in the courtroom."

As a result of the ultimatum of the Bryan county jurist, an air of restraint is breathed between the stacks of law books at Pontotoc county's battered bar.

Once, tobacco fumes forgot all about the court's order and puffed away in habitual glee while lawyers wrangled.

"Mr. Bailiff, see that the courtroom is cleared of smokers."

That ended the reign of those who puff incessantly on cigar, cigar or pipe.

Now the air is relieved of its pungent aroma, said to be caused by diligent puffs and the stern countenance of the jurist on the bench is easily discernible from the rear doors of the courtroom.

Nor does the severity of justice end with the smokers.

Order is the keynote of Judge Newman's reign over lawyers and clients alike.

He countenances no gaff of attorneys, rumbles of whispered conversation around the bar but instead the leaves of faithful lawbooks are the only rival disturbances to monotonous but plaintive appeals of attorneys.

Lawyers are severely reprimanded when they leave the courtroom and absent themselves when cases in which they are interested are read from the docket.

COOLIDGE FAILS TO RESPOND ON WHEELER CLAIMS

Declares Seven Charges Are Unanswered by President
To Date

HITS OIL ACTION

Charges State Specific Instances of Laxity in Officialdom

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Declaring that various charges he has made against Coolidge's administration during his campaign have gone unanswered Senator Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate today challenged the president personally to reply.

Through the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign headquarters here, Mr. Wheeler issued a statement covering most of the allegations he has made and submitted seven specific questions which he asked Mr. Coolidge to answer.

They are:

1—Why, Mr. Coolidge, was it necessary for congress to act before you dismissed the secretary of the navy who had allowed the navy oil reserve to be turned over to the secretary of the interior, knowing this secretary of the interior was frankly in favor of turning over all the nation's natural resources to private exploiters.

2—Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you wait for congress to act before you started your half-hearted proceedings against the secretary of the interior who had accepted a bribe of $100,000 from certain oil interests and had given away the navy's oil reserves for that bribe and for contributions to the Republican campaign fund?

3—Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you wait for congress to expose the vile details of corruption in the department of justice before you consented to remove Attorney General Daugherty from office when you, as well as all Washington, knew his record?

4—Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you still retain in the department of justice those men who worked hand in hand with Mr. Daugherty in covering crime and protecting criminals?

5—Why, Mr. Coolidge, when you knew that agents of your government were trailing members of congress and shadowing their houses, did you not have those men discharged from public service?

6—Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you protect against the investigations carried on by congress?

7—Why, did you interfere to prevent investigations of the treasury department?

Pine Scheduled to Address Ada Voters On Issues Tonight

W. B. Pine, Republican senatorial candidate, will address the voters of Ada tonight at the Convention Hall, according to the announcement of Republican leaders here today.

Pine will arrive here after his address this afternoon at Stonewall and will take the platform here this evening to set out his claims for the senate seats in an address tonight.

Pine's address here tonight is the continuance of his campaign throughout the southern portion of the state.

The Convention hall also responded to political oratory this afternoon when Senator A. D. McKellar of Tennessee addressed voters on issues of the National Democratic party. McKellar was scheduled to speak at 2:30 this afternoon.

Five Cents Buys Race Horse

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The story of a thoroughbred that was sold for five cents at the Empire City race track was told today.

Reprisal came out of one of the races so lame that his owner Frank Kelly, veteran turfman, was in a quandary as to how to dispose of the animal.

"Why don't you sell him?" asked Tommy Mara, noticing the condition of the horse. "I would if I could find some one that would part with five cents," answered Kelly.

"You've sold a horse," answered Mara and gave Kelly a bright shining buffalo nickel and led the animal away.

Reprisal will go into history as the cheapest horse sold since Billy Lakeland sold Maximo Gomez to Billy Clancy for a clay pipe.

MAN ARRAIGNED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Roper Preliminary to be Held
Here Saturday; Held
In Jail

Rufus M. Roper was arraigned this morning on an assault charge in connection with an alleged assault on Miss Genevieve Rice at the home of Harry W. Miller late Monday afternoon and the date for his preliminary hearing set for Saturday morning.

Roper, a man about 30 years of age and an employee of the city in the garbage collection department, is alleged to have entered the Miller home and attacked Miss Rice, a sister of Mrs. Miller.

According to available information Roper was repulsed in his alleged assault after he had gained entrance to the Miller home.

Charges were filed against him Wednesday morning but he was not arraigned until this morning.

The complaint set out that Roper forced entrance to the home and attempted to force his attention on Miss Rice, alleging that she suffered abuse and ill treatment from the alleged assailant.

Roper made no statement at his arraignment and is being held in the county jail awaiting his preliminary hearing before Justice Joseph Anderson Saturday.

CRUMP'S COURT HALTS WHEN THUGS DESERT

(By the Associated Press)

CROMWELL, Oct. 22.—The court of inquiry instituted Monday by District Judge G. C. Crump of Holdenville to investigate charges that vice and crime were rampant in this mushroom oil field was to discontinue its activities late today because, according to Judge Crump, there is a dearth of subjects to investigate.

A general exodus of floating population of drug peddlers and bootleggers followed the arrival of Judge Crump, his deputy sheriff and his 60-foot log chain to which he proposed to link violators and march them to Seminole county jail at Wewoka. One alleged narcotic peddler was the only result of the drive. Twelve witnesses were examined by the court. Judge Crump made an investigation of conditions in Cromwell in September and a number of alleged violators were made to hike to Wewoka as a result.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—George Short, Oklahoma attorney general went to Cromwell to assist in the court of inquiry which District Judge George C. Crump is conducting into lax law enforcement in the oil field.

ONLY TWO DAYS REMAIN TO LIST COUNTY VOTERS

Thursday and Friday to End
Registration Period
For Voters

REGISTRATIONS SHORT

Pegg to Offer Services on Last
Day of Registration
Here

Only two more days to register. Thursday and Friday promise to be busy days for precinct and county registrars, who will enlist the voters for the general election on November 4.

The two remaining days will total the number of votes to be cast in the 1924 general election, which will determine the offices from president to constable.

Pontotoc county has lagged in registration up to the present time, only a few scattered registrations the county being reported. The officials expected however to receive most of the new registrations on the last two days of the allotted ten.

The registration precincts are open to all people of legal age, who did not register last election in Pontotoc county and who have since registering last year changed their voting precinct.

Pegg to Register Friday

County Registrar W. M. Pegg, stated today that as a special courtesy to those sponsoring the registration campaign in Pontotoc county, he would devote his time Friday to registering all voters, who have had difficulty in locating their precinct registrars and who have for other reasons been unable to register. Pegg stated that this would include all county and city voters, regardless of precinct. He declared, however that it would be less complicated if prospective voters could use their own precinct registrar.

Pegg announced this step as a result of a number of inquiries received at his office at the Security National Bank to the effect that voters were unable to locate registrars.

All Voters Sought

Pegg in a statement today, issued a final appeal to all persons eligible to vote to use their rights of franchise and register for the coming election. Pegg emphasized that the campaign to enlist every available voter did not daily with party creeds but is an effort to bring every voter to the polls on election day.

Pegg also emphasized the importance of registering early, declaring that it has been the rule following the closing of the county registration books for a number of citizens to clamor for voting rights after neglecting to register during the legal period.

Pegg declared that a comparison with the population of the county should bring the total number of voters in Pontotoc county to over 10,000 but the maximum registration in the county has been around 8,000.

Expenses Paid for Labor Leaders on Washington Visit

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The money to pay hotel and taxi bills of labor leaders who came to Washington on Labor Day to hear President Coolidge speak was advanced by T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, he testified today before the senate campaign fund investigating committee.

The shipping board chairman added under questioning, however, that he in turn was paid back by Joseph Ryan, a labor leader.

EARLDOM CLAIMED BY U. S. WOMAN

Mrs. Isabella S. W. Callahan, 89, of Astoria, L. I., claims to be the rightful heir to Earldom of Airlie, one of Britain's richest titles. She says she is a direct descendant of Lady Janet Ogilvie, sister of the man who held the title in 1735. Lady Jane's will read that all succeeding eldest daughters should be heiresses to the vast Airlie wealth.

GIRL IN LAUNDRY HELD ON CHARGE

Claimed Lure to Frameup in Which Many Prominents
Have Been Caught

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Helen Pelrose, 24 years old, who was arrested in a Jersey City laundry where she was employed as a sorter, has confessed that she was the lure by which a Boston blackmail ring of lawyers extorted $60,000 from Albert Victor Searles, millionaire artist, according to detectives who questioned her during the night. She also confessed that she was the lure in other plots that netted blackmailers more than $600,000, police declared. She is being held for extradition to Boston where she is wanted on four indictments charging conspiracy and other offenses. While she told police that her name was Pelrose, and that she had been employed in the laundry two years, police declared she was Eleanor Barres, alias Sheila Barton and half a dozen other names.

Other Cases Mentioned.

Police said that she admitted that with Mrs. Blanche Paul she had occupied an apartment in Boston to which Searles was inveigled which plot with others led to the disbarment of William J. Corcoran, district attorney of Middlesex county, and his subsequent indictment for extortion with six others, including two lawyers.

After the execution Mrs. Paul and Miss Pelrose fled from Boston police quoted her as saying, first going to Hartford, Connecticut. Becoming involved there in another blackmail case in which Abraham Levy of Hartford, a Yale student, was the victim, she was arrested on complaint of the student's father. Released on $100 bail to await hearing on charges of bigamy and blackmail, she fled to Springfield, Massachusetts. When she was recaptured there she attempted to commit suicide and was near death in a hospital for several days.

WOMAN TAKEN, CHARGED WITH MUTILATING MAN

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Francis Foster Cunningham, divorcee and member of the Illinois Women's Athletic Club, was taken into custody late last night after another girl was alleged to have attempted to mutilate Ralph Regelo, 28, in Mrs. Cunningham's apartments.

Police found Regelo who gave his present occupation as a clerk said formerly was an operative for a private detective agency, lying on the kitchen floor. He was rushed to a hospital and later because police believed he was trying to shield Mrs. Cunningham and the "other woman," he was taken to Bridewell hospital.

Neighbors who heard the screams of Regelo called the police. According to Mrs. Cunningham, Regelo had been staying with her sometime.

"He is a cousin of mine," she said. She was hysterical and when taken to the hospital gave contradictory evidence.

Regelo from his bed in the hospital told police he had been friendly with Miss Edith Jones, 25, but police after an investigation failed to disclose such a person and believed he was lying.

WORLD GREATEST SHOW ON WAY TO ADA FOR ONE DAY

Ringling Brothers Here Tomorrow to Satisfy Circus
Craving

HERE AT DAYBREAK

Hundreds of Leading Artists
Of Big Tent to Perform
Here

The Greatest Show on Earth is on its way to Ada.

Some time between midnight and dawn that biggest of all tent shows—the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey colossus of 1924—made greater than before by the addition of many new foreign features, including a single display of more than fifty Tartarian stallions, is coming to town. The different sections, totaling 100 railroad cars, will come from Shawnee via the Santa Fe.

As quickly as the trains arrive their contents will be transferred to the show grounds. First in interest will be the menagerie—the biggest ever traveled. There will be twelve baby elephants in addition to the herds of big ones, six giraffes, a picturesque cavalcade of zebras, camels, zebu and sacred cattle; "Big Bill," a giant rhinoceros alone worth $50,000, and an entire family of hippopotami. Added to these will be an endless procession of closely covered cages holding hundreds of strange animals.

The morning will be utilized in erecting the 30 tents of the tan-bark town. There are more dressing tents than ever before, the roster of human performers having been increased by the importation of fully a hundred foreign artists. There are stable tents equal in size to the "big tops" of small shows.

Those who watch the building of the gigantic main-tent of 1924 will, in addition to three rings and five stages, note four steel arenas. It is in these that the wild animals will be performed. These many additions have so increased the task of putting this great double circus in place that it has become necessary to everywhere eliminate the street parade.

Foremost Aerial Stars.

There are 800 of the world's foremost aerial stars in this big, augmented circus of 1924. These number May Wirth, greatest of all somersaulting equestrians; the hard-came riding comedian, "Phil, the Marvel," and the entire Wirth family. Berta Beeson, the sensational aerial danseuse, leads a congress of high-wire artists. Lilly Leitzel, the world's greatest aerial gymnast, and Ernest Clark, foremost among male exponents on the flying trapeze, captain the scores of men and women who perform aloft. Lillian Kincaid and M'le Renee head a complete company of beautiful women who disport in "cloud swings" fixed high in the roof of the gigantic main-tent.

In this vast modern circus are single companies of performers that outnumber the entire personnel of old-time shows. One family, the Nelsons, in remarkable acrobatic displays, consists of father, mother, six daughters and a son. The Italian Picchianis form a troupe of fourteen marvelous athletes. Other companies have been formed combining the champions of various countries. The Clarksons, supreme among aerialists of England, now appear trapeze to trapeze with the American Nelsons. Pitted against these are the French aerialists, the Silbsons; and elsewhere in the 700-foot "big top" the Ciegists and Neapolitans. There are seventeen separate displays this season, each numbering no less than nine separate acts.

Seventy equestrians present bareback riding and, in addition, twenty-two menage riders appear in a display given over entirely to high-school horses. The bareback artists offer everything commonly associated with the "old fashioned circus," while the wonderful Reiffenach Sisters have come from Belgium to introduce "athletics-a-horse back." Aside from the Wirths and the Reiffenachs are other great riders numbering the Sevillas, the Ernestos, the Rooneys, the Clarksons, Bradnas, Comptons, Osentos and Tarnetts.

One Hundred Clowns.

One hundred clown introduce these world's greatest riders and at all times enliven the program with everything from selections by the "world's worst band," and a miniature hook and ladder company, formed entirely of dwarfs, to comedy autos that do everything but talk.

The 200 or more trained animals together with an equal number of with the human actors on the mammoth program. Four steel arenas at a time after time filled with troupes of performing tigers, lions, leopards, polar bears and black panthers. Still other trained animals number the Pallenbergs tight-rope bears, the Huling seals, and Loyal's whirl-i-gig poodles. There are now five herds of elephants in place of

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A MAN THAT HATH FRIENDS must show himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.—Proverbs 18:24.

A GOOD CAMPAIGNER.

High hopes were entertained of the ability of Mr. John W. Davis to conduct with skill and vigor the Democratic campaign. He has not disappointed them. Facing a task of great difficulty, he has addressed himself to it with the shrewdness of a practical man of business and the argumentative and persuasive force of an unusually talented writer and speaker. Mr. Davis unquestionably had a big job thrust upon him when he was nominated for the Presidency. First of all, he had to endeavor to reconstruct and inspire his party organization. It had been left badly shattered and dispirited by the disputes and animosities of the Democratic National Convention. Hence the earliest duty laid upon Mr. Davis was to ease friction where it had been created, to bring antagonistic party workers together, and to infuse into committees, both national and state, a hopeful and fighting spirit. All the evidence goes to show that Mr. Davis has done this necessary work with a high degree of success. Out of a despondent party, he has made one aggressive and expectant.

On the stump Mr. Davis has displayed the qualities which his friends knew him to possess. He has done nothing mean or unfair. His speeches have been a compliment to the intelligence of the audiences which he has addressed. Seizing upon the issues which had been made for him, he has argued them with a force and variety and dignity which have compelled the admiration even of his political enemies. And if in direct appeal he has been moving, in reply to his assailants he has been remarkably effective. Quick to see an opening, and to take advantage of it, Mr. Davis has often made great play in exposing the fallacies or the weaknesses of his antagonists. Nothing could have been more ready and conclusive, for example, than his reply to Secretary Hughes, who had incautiously asserted that in the West the Democratic Party was "shot to pieces." Mr. Davis taking up Western State after State, and specifying Senators and others by name, showing amusingly and effectively what party it is that is really shot to pieces in the West, and that it is not the Democrats.

Mr. Davis has latterly been dwelling more and more positively upon the chief strategic aspect of the campaign. This lies in the fact that the Republican Party is badly split, and can no longer deny it. All that the Democrats have to do is to hold their ranks firm in order to defeat a divided enemy. Why should any Democrat hesitate about voting for John Davis? His high character and special equipment are winning for him the support of many Republicans. A Democratic defection from him would be, under the existing circumstances, about the most absurd thing, from a party point of view, that could be imagined. Mr. Davis has made a fine campaign. He is stout of heart and strong of arm. He has fought a good fight. He has deserved success, whether he commands it or not. The decision rests not with him but with the loyalty of his own party, and the patriotic judgment of independent voters.—New York Times.

The socialist leaders of Oklahoma are said to be somewhat peeved because none was invited to appear on the platform with Senator Wheeler when he spoke at Oklahoma City. The fact is that two or three different bunches in Oklahoma claim to be running La Follette and Wheeler's campaign and it has not yet been settled who discovered La Follette in the first place.

Some fellow was wanting to bet that Ma Ferguson will not be elected governor of Texas. Maybe not, but we'd hate to bet our last winter's hat on that. When Texas goes Republican and Vermont goes Democratic, we shall expect to hear of roosters crowing when they go to roost and cooing as they come off.

We hope that the bonds for the court house and jail will be voted. We hope to see the commissioners push the matter through as quickly as good business will permit and the building start. Then, we are certain Tom McKeown will land a federal building, and then Ada will be fairly well supplied with public buildings. But we need them all.

Don't you believe what little it will cost you will be money well spent to get a good court house? With records unsafe, with the court house and jail unsanitary, it is time that Pontotoc county, one of the greatest in the state, was getting a court house.

John W. Davis is one of the greatest men the Democratic party ever nominated, Scott Ferris, national committeeman told a bunch of local Democrats here Monday. He served with Davis in congress and has been in touch with him ever since, so he knows whereof he speaks.

The election is only two weeks off but we hear very little about the court house bond issue of $200,000.

SHIP AHOY!

SIN FORGIVENESS CHURCH MESSAGE

World and Church Prophesying for Greater Christianity, He Says

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The supreme message of the church to the world is forgiveness of sins, declared the Rev. Dr. P. H. Knobel, in his sermon tonight to the 500 delegates from all over the United States and Canada, at the opening of the fourth biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America, delivered at Wicker Park Lutheran church. The world's call, he declared, is for a message which it can accept not merely upon authority, but which brings certitude to the soul and answers the world's ethical and social problems. The world and the church, he said, are longings, prophesying, for a greater Christianity. If this is to come it cannot come through the abandonment of forgiveness of sins.

Dr. Knobel declared: "The test of a standing or falling church is this, does it make forgiveness of sins its one message? It was Jesus' one central message and he imparted it to his disciples when he told them, 'Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted.' No man is in the fullest sense a Christian unless he finds himself able to forgive others their offenses, unless also he knows the necessity that he go forth to others bestowing forgiveness of sins as though God Himself were bestowing it."

"The forgiveness of sins provides the church with the strongest ethical message. The appeal of the day is for such a message. There are shocking revelations before us constantly of national, political and individual misdoings. Worse than these, however, are the things of which Christians permit themselves to be guilty today, in open defiance of earthly law, in silly and sensual compliance with fashion and custom, in heedless concurrence with base money getters who are destroying the Lord's Day."

"There is need of a new ethical message. There is failure to understand and accept the old one. Behind the world-wide pessimism of the present day, is a vague but true consciousness of fundamental human fault. If the church would realize this, she would recognize that her message to a world that is losing hope and slipping morally, is to awaken and stir men's consciences to their depravity, and proclaim forgiveness of their sins. Aroused consciences are the greatest moral forces the world can possess."

"We hear much of pacifism these days and the church is asked to support it. If the church is to preach to nations in their antagonism it must cry for repentance as to that national pride, selfishness and self-righteousness which nations cover under false patriotism."

The church would most strongly ward off all false modernism by delivering to the people its message of forgiveness, said the president, and added: "The modern falsities all begin with lenient views of human sin and consequently find less and less need for any supernatural intervention of God in man's distress. Because of its faults, it must be said of modernism that it gives men haze instead of certitude, provides no moral message that can spring out of the mighty source of gratitude, can only imitate the world in the provision of social panacea and leaves men slaves to their guilty consciences."

Edmond Gridmen to Oppose 'Bo' McMillan's Team

(By the Associated Press)
EDMOND, Oct. 21.—Having scored notable victories over the university of Oklahoma, Baylor college of Waco, Texas, and the East Central State Teachers college, Central Teachers college, champions of the state conference, is pointing itself for the gridiron battle with Centenary college at Shreveport, La., two weeks from now.

"Bo" McMillan, famous Centenary star, is coaching Centenary and since his taking charge the little Louisiana college has made a name for itself.

Eyes of the southwestern football followers turned on the Edmond teachers when they posed out Oklahoma, 2-0, after outplaying the Sooners. The eyes opened wider when the teachers convincingly trounced Baylor, 13-6. Baylor is one of the most consistently strong teams in Texas and always is regarded as a contender for the state title.

For several years Charles Wantland, former Oklahoma star, has turned out strong teams at Edmond but he believes this year's team is his best. If it continues its early season form Wantland will angle for a game with Notre Dame for next year, he stated.

Wantland has no tricks in coaching. He conditions his team first and then develops an attack that can be maintained throughout the game, and operated like a machine. His defensive operations receive much attention. Every man is coached to follow the ball and take part in every play. He uses almost entirely straight football, sending his backs through the line or around the ends from a number of shift formations.

Williamson, Edmond's quarterback is regarded by many state critics as the best pilot in the southwest. He is a protégé of Wantland.

In Bath, England, water is still clear through the lead pipes that were used in Roman times.

SOLVED THE PROBLEM

"I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and it has solved the problem, as I can now eat anything and have no distress." It is a simple, harmless, preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. G.W. & M. and leading druggists everywhere.

LABOR LEADER BOOSTS PROGRESSIVES IN STATE

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—The non-partisan campaign committee of the Federation of Labor has taken no action in the senatorial campaign in Oklahoma, Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation declared today in a telegram to Victor S. Purdy, secretary of the Oklahoma Federation of Labor. Purdy said that the national publication, "Labor," which is said to have endorsed the candidacy of J. C. Walton, Democratic nominee for the United States senate, is not authorized to speak for the non-partisan campaign committee.

"We trust that labor and the citizenship generally of your state will stand loyally in support of LaFollette and Wheeler for president and vice president and real progressives for senator and representatives in congress," President Gompers' message said.

HUNG JURY AGAIN
IN DAMAGE SUIT

Jury Fails to Agree on Suit
For $30,000 Against Cement Plant

For the second time a jury pondered in vain over the fate of a suit instituted by Herman Kepper for $30,000 in damages for the Oklahoma Portland Cement company.

The jury was dismissed at 2 o'clock this afternoon after 22 hours deliberation over the charge of Special Judge Porter Newman of Durant and lengthy argument in the suit by attorneys.

The case was turned over to the jurors at 4 o'clock yesterday but reported on each recall that no decision had been reached in the case.

The plaintiffs in the suit claimed damages to the extent of $30,000 as a result of injuries which caused the loss of two fingers and a thumb on the left hand and the left eye of Herman Kepper, a boy of 10 years at the time of the explosion at Lawrence, August 10, 1919.

The plaintiffs allege that the injury was caused by the explosion of a dynamite cap used at the quarries of the Portland Cement company at Lawrence.

Judge A. C. Barrett of Pauls Valley was on the bench when a jury of 12 men failed to arrive at a decision when the case was last presented over a year ago.

The case of Joe Perry vs. Oklahoma Portland Cement company for the recovery of an allotment of land and damages of $5,000 in rentals was started shortly after noon today before Judge Newman, trial judge for the docket of matters in which District Judge J. W. Bolen has disqualified.

In the suit of Walker vs. Rogers for foreclosure of mechanic lien, a directed verdict was rendered for the plaintiff and the interpleaders, Scott Lumber company for foreclosure of materialman's lien.

Cold Snap Hits
After Balm

Ear muffs are being resurrected in Ada as a result of a cold snap last night that threatened to end the balmy days of autumn.

Following a continued era of tropical weather in Ada for more than two weeks, Ada citizens were thinking of planting carrots and tomatoes instead of digging in for the bleak winter months.

The cold snap was really warm pleasant weather after continued warm weather conditions, the minimum temperature staying at 76 degrees.

Despite the fact that merchants are invitingly displaying coats and winter wraps, Ada as yet cannot believe nature is unkind.

ADA GRIDSTERS TO MEET
SHAWNEE TEAM FRIDAY

After wading through all opposition thus far this season, Ada's high school gridiron team hits its hardest snag Friday afternoon when it invades the Shawnee high school chalk markers to do battle.

Shawnee, a member of the central conference, has been rated as one of the strongest teams of the state in years gone past but this year has suffered a severe slump. Despite their showing in the conference, Shawnee is traveling in fast company and an Ada victory will give the locals a foothold to claim stronger bids for state honors.

The Shawnee game is the fore-runner game for the McAlester struggle, which will be the hardest game of the season for the local team. McAlester being rated as one of the best teams in the state owing to their defeat of Okmulgee and holding to a close margin of the powerful Tulsa team.

The Ada team has not been defeated this season and with the exception of the Sulphur game here. Friday has not been forced to extend its best effort to defend the Ada goal line.

A large aggregation of fans will accompany the Ada team to Shawnee Friday.

GERMAN INTERESTS MAY LINK MOSCOW

Air Route to Peking May Be Established Through German Plans

(By the Associated Press)
URGA, Mongolia, Sept. 10.—Representatives of the German Junkers Company have just completed an air survey to give a regular air plane service between Moscow and Peking, with a possibility of extending it ultimately into South China. The line will follow the Trans-Siberian Railway from Moscow as far as Verkhne-Idinsk, and from there will turn south to Urga, and then to Peking by way of Kalgan and the railway connecting southern Mongolia with the Chinese capital.

The Moscow government has approved the route and it is the desire of the promoters to get American capital to back a joint German-Russian Company. There is no likelihood that the regular service will be established before next year at the earliest.

An air service is now operating with more or less regularity between Moscow and Vladivostok, and the proposed Peking line would operate in connection with this service, transferring passengers at Verkhne-Idinsk who desire to go to Mongolian or Chinese cities.

Since Mongolia declared itself an independent republic last July and proclaimed the Churuldun, or assembly, the holder of the supreme power of the land, there is much speculation as to what the future of the great plain country will be. Under the Living Buddha, who is now dead, it was presumably an autonomous country under the protection of China, but the Russian czarist government had Mongolia as a sphere of influence and resisted the efforts of Americans and other foreigners to get concessions to build railways here.

When the czarist government fell affairs became chaotic in Mongolia. Baron Ungern-Sternberg, as leader of the White Russians, took Mongolia after the Bolsheviks came into power and assumed supervision of the affairs of the Hutuktu, or Living Buddha, who had for years been the ward of the old czarist government.

Three years ago the Red forces undermined Baron Ungern-Sternberg's power in Mongolia, captured and executed him. That was in the days when the Far Eastern Republic still existed in central Siberia, north of Mongolia, with its capital at Chita. The Far Eastern Republic was later absorbed by the Moscow government, but the Bolshevik forces never gave up the dominance they had achieved in Mongolia by virtue of the overthrow of Ungern-Sternberg and Moscow has continued to direct Mongolian affairs, assuming much the same relation that the czarist government held toward Mongolia.

It was not until the death of the Living Buddha, that Mongolia proclaimed itself a republic, thereby casting off Chinese control, and theoretically becoming independent. In fact it is more thoroughly than ever under the domination of Moscow, as the great undeveloped plain and desert land has few men among its nomadic population of 2,000,000 who can read and write and are capable of directing its affairs.

Mongolia is 11 times as large as Texas and nearly half as large as all of the continental area of the United States, but much of its territory is included in the Gobi Desert and a large percentage of the land requires irrigation for agricultural purposes. Its inhabitants are mostly wandering tribes of Mongols and almucks that live in tent colonies and graze cattle and sheep on the high plains.

CONTE TO GIVE ORGAN RECITAL FOR PRESBYTERIANS

Rev. E. O. Whitwell announces that Paola Conte, head of the music department of the Baptist University of Shawnee, has been obtained to give a pipe organ recital at the Presbyterian church here on November 10. Rev. Whitwell says Prof. Conte is without an equal as a pipe organist in the southwest and that the music lovers will be delighted with his concert. He is really delighted at getting the distinguished composer and organist to come to Ada.

MORRIS HOLDS SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL IN MONROE, LA.

Rev. C. C. Morris has returned from Monroe, La., where he conducted a two weeks revival for the First Baptist church of that city. He reports 120 conversions, 75 additions to the church, two-thirds of whom were by baptism. The church at Monroe is one of the largest in Louisiana and is making rapid progress, according to Rev. Morris. He grew up in Louisiana and it was like returning home for him to be in Monroe.

American Education Week to be Observed In State, Nash Says

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—Newspapers, churches, civic clubs and patriotic organizations will co-operate with the Oklahoma Education association and the state department in the observance of American Educational week, November 17-23, according to M. A. Nash, state superintendent of education.

In a letter to all organizations and persons interested in making the week a success, Superintendent Nash declared:

"Let the week be a time of new understanding and new vision on the part of the entire American people of the part education has played, is playing and must play in the life of our great democracy. 'American Education week' is the one time in the year when the nation is called upon to dedicate itself anew to the great task of universal education for democracy, to see and know the schools to consider in a public way the big problems of education and to join in appreciation of its achievements. 'The schools themselves have a truly remarkable opportunity to teach every boy and girl his responsibility as a citizen to help maintain an educational system which will perpetuate the best in the life and ideals of the republic.'"

Icelandic Poets Break Into Verse to Greet U. S. Aviators

(By the Associated Press)
HOFN HORNARFJORD, Iceland.—When an Icelandic poet wrote a song to the tune of "Yankee Doodle," celebrating the arrival here of the American globe-encircling airmen on their long journey across the Atlantic, it was rather a special occasion for the Americans, and the American translation was adopted and sung by some of sailors from the cruiser Paleigh, which lay off the fjord to "mother" the flight.

But it was nothing new for Hornarford, where even children chant songs of their own composition, and the sagas of the old Norse Vikings who, more than 1,000 years ago swept these northern seas, are handed down from generation to generation in the language in which they were originally sung, faithful to the old texts. For Iceland has a remarkably rich literature of its own, both written and oral, and poetry is especially adapted to the Icelandic tongue.

In Hofn Hornarford, isolated from the rest of Iceland by impassable mountains and seas that are often too stormy to allow the passage of the small Icelandic passenger vessels, many of the old viking customs are still observed. These include the gathering of the family each evening during the long, almost sunless winter, when sagas are chanted and the heroic deeds of the old Norsemen recounted. No longer do the Icelanders live in turf huts, as did their ancestors, and Hornarford has modern homes of galvanized iron and cement, but the family gathering is as important today as it was 1,000 years ago. The women dress in their quaint gowns of black silk often embroidered in silver and gold, and wear the little black national cap or bonnet, a heritage of the early Norse settlers. In the long winter nights there is little to do, and the evenings are devoted to the arts, literature, music, painting and drawing. Many of the villagers are graduates of the National University at Reykjavik, and others have been educated at Copenhagen or other continental capitals.

Von Tirpitz May Disclose Details of Loss of Lusitania

BERLIN.—Details hitherto unpublished concerning the insidious facts leading up to the sinking of the Lusitania have been promised in a new book to be issued soon by Admiral von Tirpitz, the former navy head, who has been credited with having given the final order which resulted in the destruction of the steamer.

According to the announcements, Admiral von Tirpitz, now leader of the Nationalists in the Reichstag, has consented to the publication of all the secret archives in his possession, which cover some 20 years period to 1914.

The first book of Admiral von Tirpitz appeared some years ago, and caused quite a stir despite its tone of reservation, but in the new volume the admiral, it is said, has promised to "tell it all."

First Barrage of Hunters Due to Strike Ada

Heralding the coming of winter, flocks of wild geese and ducks have passed over the city early mornings during the past week and especially the last two days on their southward migration. A large flock of wild geese alarmed the city last night honking plaintively for the attention of hunters.

The hunting season is in infancy as yet but the army is gradually increasing with the first nip of cold weather. Some hunters have been lucky enough to get shots at some of the flocks of fowl, which are still rather scarce in county streams and lakes. The migration of birds to the southland has just commenced. It is apparent here and gunmen may prepare for a steady flight from colder northern states. Within a few weeks, it is believed, many flocks of geese and ducks may be found in usual haunts in Pontotoc county.

A few teal, mallards and other species of the duck family might go to rest on the ponds in Pontotoc county but they are only the advance guard of the many flocks hunters say will be coming later in the general migration.

A few crows have been mistaken for deer at dawn's first peep by novice hunters, who were forced later to compensate irate farmers for slaughter of dairy animals, according to the gossip going the rounds of hunters.

Hardware stores report an increase in the sale of shells, guns, boots, jackets and other paraphernalia used by the hunter, who has given his fishing tackle a rest.

CHRISTIAN IN WAR IS
PROBLEM OF LUTHERANS

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—To decide whether a Christian is ever justified in going to war is one of the difficult problems that was submitted this morning to the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America at its session here. Five hundred delegates, representing more than 2,800 Lutheran congregations, are called upon to define the position of the church on that point.

The war issue comes before the convention in the form of four memorials from as many different synods which have already taken their attitude on that question. The issue was raised also by the Committee on Moral and Social Welfare which includes in its membership some of the most advanced progressives in the Lutheran church organization.

Several months ago the committee adopted the statement that it believed that the assertion in the famous Augsburg Confession, formulated 400 years ago, that "Christians may engage in just wars," was a correct interpretation of the teachings of Jesus Christ.

This caused a protest, from three of the synods which are constituents of the United Lutheran Church in America. They have adopted memorials emphatically opposing the idea that Christians would be justified in going to war.

Lutheran leaders expect a lively clash in the convention when this issue arises for debate on the floor next Tuesday.

HAYNES DECLARES PROSPECT
FOR LIQUOR IN UNITED STATES
GROWS DIMMER EACH SEASON

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Prohibition enforcement is becoming more effective every day, and this improvement in curbing the outlawed liquor traffic is due to better co-operation between federal and local authorities, according to a resume of prohibition enforcement by the federal government during the present administration, made public by Federal Prohibition Commissioner R. A. Haynes. Other contributing factors are the imposition of jail sentences instead of fines for violators, more general use of the "padlock" on liquor nuisances, and steps taken toward stopping leaks of liquor from bonded warehouses to the illicit market.

Some of the information contained in this statement was made use of by Mr. Haynes in an address delivered last week at Dayton, Ohio. The report covers the period from June 11, 1921, to Sept. 11, 1924. It shows that the main sources for obtaining genuine liquor in this country have been largely cut off. This has caused bootleggers to turn to smuggling, but with the coast guard rapidly getting this situation in control, the prospect for obtaining liquor from overseas is growing dimmer daily.

Commissioner Haynes said that the more general realization that more than 90 percent of the so-called bootleg liquor being sold is poisonous, was also a contributing factor in bringing about victory of law and order over the outlawed liquor traffickers.

"Jail sentences," said the commissioner, "are proving the real deterrent to law breaking. The violator may pay a fine and continue business in a different locality under a different name, until again apprehended. But when he is put in jail, his activities are at an end, his income stops, and he has an opportunity to reflect upon the importance of upholding the Constitution."

"Co-operation between federal and state authorities is improving," said Commissioner Haynes. "All forces for upholding law and order should co-operate. More than 177,000 arrests have been made by the federal authorities during the last three years. During the same period violators have been sentenced in federal courts to serve an aggregate of nearly 7,000 years."

"More than 400,000 stills and parts of stills and about 39,000 gallons of distilled spirits, malt liquors, wine, etc., have been seized during the last three years. A total of 11,077 automobiles and 424 boats and launches have been captured."

"During this period more than 128,200 criminal cases have been taken to federal courts. Of this number over 120,000 have been terminated, resulting in more than 94,300 convictions."

"Thousands of other cases have been turned into local courts of which there is no complete record. Fines of nearly $18,000,000 have been imposed, over $12,300,000 of which has actually been collected and turned into the United States Treasury. Last year alone the fines, forfeitures, etc., imposed totaled over $7,000,000 of which more than $5,000,000 has already been collected. In addition, about $1,000,000 was paid by brewers during the year in compromise of civil liabilities. Tax penalty figures are not yet compiled, but will swell the total collection considerably."

"The injunction or 'padlock' is another effective weapon. Injunction cases have been instituted in both federal and state courts. Since July, 1922, over 4,000 such cases have been instituted. In more than 3,200 cases injunctions were granted, over 2,650 of which have been made permanent. Particular attention has been devoted to securing injunctions in brewery cases. About 180 such cases have been instituted against breweries. Of those granted, 72 have been made permanent, and 29 breweries have been actually closed."

"A well organized permit system has effectively curbed the leak from bonded warehouses. There has been a reduction in withdrawals of about 7,000,000 gallons from that in 1921 the first fiscal dry year. Although more industrial alcohol is being used legitimately now than ever due to expansion in the volume of legitimate alcohol-using industries, diversions to the bootleg trade are decreasing. It is estimated that less than 10 percent of the entire production is involved in illegal transactions, a substantial quantity of which is later seized and destroyed."

"An extreme reduction in the use of medicinal wines as a beverage has resulted from medicating the wine, rendering medicinal preparations containing wine unfit for beverage use. Withdrawals of wine during the last year were only a little over 4,000,000 gallons, over half of which was used for sacramental purposes."

"Only about 19 percent of the applications for importation of wine during the last year were approved all of which was for medicinal or manufacturing purposes. The practice of smuggling exported whiskey back into this country has been practically eliminated by curtailing exportation. Of the applications for exportation of whiskey in the amount of over 4,400,000 gallons during the last year, only about 4 percent were approved, and none of the whiskey shipped to Canada."

BEIRUT—The bones of pious Shiah Moslems, whose relatives can afford to pay the price, are now transported part of the way by automobiles from Teheran, the Persian capital, to Kerbela in Mesopotamia, where every good Shiah wishes his bones to rest.

A local motor-transport company recently extended its service between here and Baghdad as far as Teheran. The conveying of bodies of Persians from the capital to Baghdad for railway transport to Kerbela, about 60 miles from Baghdad, is a profitable side line in the company's business.

Kerbela has been a place of pilgrimage of the Shiah Moslems ever since the seventh century when a great tomb, was erected to the martyred Hosian, son of the fourth Caliph, slain by a rival's soldiers. The town owes its existence to Hosian's shrine, for tens of thousands of pilgrims go there annually many of them carrying the bones

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal souls, if we imbue them with principles, with the fear of God and love of fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which brightens all eternity."—Daniel Webster.

"Education, to accomplish the end of good government, should be universally diffused. Open the doors of the school house to all the children in the land. Let no man have the excuse of poverty for not educating his offspring. Place the means of education within his reach, and if they remain in ignorance, be it his own reproach. On the diffusion of education among the people rests the prescription of our free institutions."—Daniel Webster.

"It is a mistake to say that we have much ignorance in this country. There is little of what is generally called ignorance in the United States. In the Old World, under the despotism of Europe, the masses of ignorant men were inserted masses are moved upon and controlled by the intelligent and cultivated aristocracy. But in this Republic, where government rests upon the will of the people, every man has an active power for good or evil. And the great question is, will we think rightly or wrongly; shall the power in him be educated and directed aright toward industry, liberty and patriotism, or, under the baneful influences, shall it lead him continually downward and work out anarchy and ruin both to him and the government? The question is not whether our people shall be educated or not. If they are not educated in the school of virtue and integrity they will be educated in the school of vice and iniquity. We are, therefore, afloat on the sweeping current; if we make no effort, we go down with it to the saddest of destinies. It is only by perpetual and persistent effort that we make headway and advancement in civilization."—James A. Garfield.

Laughs at Danger But Miss Leitzel Runs from Spider

Little Miss Muffet Sat on a tuffet. Eating of curds and whey There came a great spider And sat down beside her. And frightened Miss Muffet away.

Of all the aerial artists with the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus of 1924 none perform more hazardous feats than Lily Leitzel. Tiny of figure, with golden hair, and dressed in the fluffiest of costumes, she daily ascends to the dome of the "World's biggest big top" there to execute the most intricate of gyrations, including a giant "half flange." This means that she literally tosses her body over her own shoulder often as many as 100 times while suspended in mid-air. The most dangerous part of Miss Leitzel's act is accomplished when there is no net beneath to break a possible fall.

Those who have seen this remarkable girl doubtless conclude that she knows no fear. Yet she never ascends to her lofty place without a shudder. The reasons for her discomfiture are of two kinds—spiders and grasshoppers.

"Laugh if you will," says Miss Leitzel, "but I must confess to an absolute horror of the little beasts. You see spiders and grasshoppers are frequently carried skyward when the tents are raised from the ground, and I just know that some day one of the horrid things will take a notion to light upon me while I am doing my act. And if it does, I know I'll just die of fright."

High-air performers are great in number on this season's program of the big double circuses. In all, nearly 800 men and women performers will be seen here, and in addition the Ringling Brothers will exhibit three steel arenas filled with wonderful wild animal acts, 60 trained Russian stallions in a single display and many other entirely new acts. Performances are to be given here Thursday, Oct. 23.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SHOWING GROWTH

About 1,300,000 Members in United States and Canada Now

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The United Lutheran church in America, which has about 1,300,000 members in the United States and Canada, was urged today by its president, the Rev. Dr. F. H. Knobel, to endeavor to measure up more fully to the needs of the times in its educational and merciful undertakings.

President Knobel expressed the hope that, as one important step in that direction, the church would approve of the proposal to be submitted to it providing for the appointment of a special commission on theological education.

His comments and suggestions were made in the course of his report to the biennial convention of the church with 500 delegates in session here. After asserting that the progress of the church on evangelistic and missionary lines was satisfactory and disavowing any intent to criticize the work of the church's educational and missionary agencies, President Knobel continued:

"We all need to recognize that, from any true educational point of view, confusion exists in most of our congregations and that the bare beginnings of merciful work are to be seen in them. We are far from measuring up to the responsibilities of the church and the needs of the times. We must call upon all our educational and merciful agencies for an even more thoroughgoing study of the problems and practical plans for advance."

President Knobel suggested that conferences of educational and benevolent leaders be held and asked the convention to approve the proposed resolution calling for the appointment of a special commission on theological education. He said that this proposal might lead to better theological training for Lutheran educators.

Congratulating the church upon its freedom from "the baneful influence of ecclesiastical politics," Dr. Knobel warned the convention to be on guard against the extreme of traditionalism and radicalism when changes were proposed.

In contrast with his suggestions for strengthening the church, Dr. Knobel called attention to the many advances it has made in two years. These include its purchase from the Germans of their entire missionary equipment in Shantung, China, the building of a publication house in Philadelphia, magnificent attainments of the Women's Missionary Society, and a movement to establish a Lutheran women's college in the United States.

Without making specific reference to the controversy between fundamentalists and modernists in other churches, Dr. Knobel told the delegates that "the confessional situation outside of Lutheranism is growing even more sadly confused than it was," adding:

"Controversy reaches ever nearer to the very center of Christianity in Christ and his redemption." Therefore, he pointed out that it would be a positive betrayal of and danger to our allegiance to gospel principles "for the Lutheran church in America to take any further steps at this time to establish closer relations with other denominations. Concluding Dr. Knobel held up to the delegates his conception of an ideal congregation which would strive to serve others as well as itself, co-operate with other churches of the same faith, take active and efficient part in the operations of the parent church organizations, feed the hungry in Europe, welcome and aid the immigrant, support students in universities, and prepare pastors to fill the hundreds of vacant pulpits.

True to the promise given Oklahoma veterans at sixth annual convention of The American Legion at St. Paul, National Commander James A. Drain will honor Oklahoma as one of the first states to be visited since his election as the Legion's national leader.

Advice has been received by Department Commander James F. Hatcher of Chickasha that Commander Drain will spend two days in Oklahoma during the latter part of November.

General Drain is planning to make a visit to all veterans' hospitals during his term as National Commander and on November 24, according to the present plans will visit the veterans of Hospital No. 90 on Honor Heights, arriving at Muskogee the afternoon of the 24th and leaving at 9:30 the following morning.

From Muskogee, Commander Drain will go to Tulsa where a short stop will be made, before taking a train to Independence, Kansas. At Independence he will make an official inspection of the Children's Bilet—a unit of the national orphans homes maintained by the Legion.

An effort is being made by Legionnaires of Tulsa to induce Drain to make a longer stop in the Oil City metropolis by taking a night train to Independence instead of an afternoon train as planned by his original schedule.

The Oklahoma veterans were given to understand by Russell Greivison, national adjutant of the American Legion, planning the trip, that the November visit of the National Commander will not prevent him paying a second visit to Oklahoma at a later date, when Oklahoma City and several additional cities of the state will be visited. A state wide assembly of veterans is being planned for the second visit of the commander probably in the early spring.

Johnson bill, June 7, 1924, will receive their compensation regardless of the place of their hospitalization.

The membership of the Oklahoma Department of the American Legion continues to climb. A recent check-up of member cards made by the National Secretary shows that the Oklahoma department has forwarded 692 more member cards to headquarters than were received at the same date during 1923. A gain of at least 1000 members is expected, according to J. William Cordell, Department Adjutant.

Attorney General To Be Informed of Sleepy Cotton Ginners

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—The list of cotton gins in Oklahoma failing to make reports of their ginnings to the state board of agriculture will be turned over to the attorney general for prosecution, according to John A. Whitehurst, president of the board of agriculture.

Gins are required to make reports semi-monthly on the first and fifteenth of each month. Of the 874 gins in the state, 150 failed to report on October 15, Whitehurst said. A fine of $100 may be assessed against each gin for failure to comply with the state law, the president added.

Each gin is required to report on the ginnings for the two weeks period and make known the total ginnings for the season up to that date.

In the last census 1,758,303 widowers were reported in the United States.

Pimples

You will be startled how quickly and thoroughly you can stop skin eruptions and beautify your complexion with S.S.S.

PIMPLES are the first thing one notices in another person's face. It is too often cruel in its misjudgment. It judges from what it sees on the outside. Pimples are easy to get rid of. More red-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions; from the tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S.S.S. will aid Nature in building them for you! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. Start taking S.S.S. today. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
